

Whim reaches for a dusty hat tucked away on the top shelf of an old wardrobe. Something strange happens as she blows it clean—the hat begins to shimmer. Whim's heart skips a beat. It couldn't be... magic? But before she can brush it off as a trick, the dull gray hat changes into a sparkling blue before her eyes."

Excited, Whim places the hat on her head. "This is my new hat!" she declares. A curious thought pops into her head—what if the hat grants wishes? "I wonder what it can do?" she asks, staring at her reflection.

With a giggle, Whim makes her first wish. "I want my favorite cake to appear in the room!" Suddenly, the room fills with cakes of every size and color! But there's just one problem—there's too much cake to eat.

